YOUR PARTNER IN DOCUMENT AND INFORMATION MANAGEMENT

Legato Document Informations Systems

The intellectual property contained in an organization's documents is a valuable asset that must be managed and controlled, yet remain accessible to those who rely on this information to make critical business decisions. Legato's suite of Document management Software is the answer.

ApplicationXtender works hand-in-hand with virtually all business applications, maximizing the value of information by providing more efficient means of:

- ◆ Capturing all different kinds of electronic content - documents, images, video, audio, COLD/ERM and more, and making them part of an enterprise data pool, while still maintaining them in their own native file formats.
- ◆ Organizing information content for easy reference - automatically indexes data according to any number of search criteria, without extensive programming expertise.
- ◆ Intelligently accessing content - gives users the ability to easily search and retrieve the exact information they need via desktop or browser.
